DEMOCRATS, BATTLING AND SCRAMBLING FOR FAVORITES THROUGH DAY AND NIGHT, NEAR THE HOUR WHEN THEY MUST CHOOSE THEIR PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE

Stevenson's Fortunes Continue to Soar for Victory

TABLE ADJOURNMENT

President Truman Gives Stevenson Tacit Blessing

By Bob Considine

INS Staff Correspondent
AMPHITHEATRE, Chicago, July 25 — (INS) — Delegates to the Democratic National Convention, battling and scrambling for their favorites through day and night, early this morning neared the hour when they must choose the man who will lead them in the presidential sweepstakes.

The fortunes of Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois continued to soar as his backers won their first clear-cut test of strength against the Harriman-Kefauver bloc which is attempting to upset the Stevenson steamroller.

The victory came on a showdown vote of 671 to 534 to table a motion for overnight adjournment offered by Sen. Douglas of Illinois, a campaign manager for Sen. Estes Kefauver.

As President Truman and other party leaders gave Stevenson's nomination for the presidency their tacit blessing, the convention brawled through a marathon session which dramatically demonstrated the split between northern liberals and the conservative-southern group.

But gaping wounds were healed during the hectic night when the Virginia delegation and later the Louisiana and South Carolina delegations were seated despite their refusal to sign the controversial "loyalty" oath.

This development came as the convention drove inexorably toward the beginning of the balloting on the presidential nomination.

The Stevenson supporters, reportedly hoping to enlist Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia as running mate for the Illinois governor, threw all their strength to support the contested southern delegations.

The Harriman-Kefauver all-out new deal elements mustered every ounce of their joint strength in the unsuccessful effort to force adjournment and at least temporarily sidetrack the Stevenson victory drive.

These efforts, launched by Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, were defeated, 674 to 534. It was not as simple a process as the statistics indicate.

At least a half a dozen states demanded roll calls of their delegations, delegate Jimmy Roosevelt from California pulled the rules book on permanent chairman Sam Rayburn, Rayburn overruled him—and a verdict was reached at long last.

Catching a second breath at 1:15 A. M. (CDT) Friday, nearly 14 uninterrupted hours, the delegates thought for a moment they would have a 13th candidate added to the small army of men seeking the nominee's role in the first unbosomed convention in nearly a quarter of a century.

But the last man named wasn't interested. He was President Truman, asleep by this time in the White House from which he wants to retire. The President's eulogist

BUCKINGHAM, July 25 — Five thousand ears of corn, a half ton of ham, thousands of hot dogs, a hundred pounds of cheese, hard-boiled eggs galore, cold cuts and gallons and gallons of liquid refreshments will be a part of the pie de resistance of the 15th annual picnic of the Loyal Republican Club of Bucks County on Saturday afternoon, August 2nd.

All roads will lead to the GOP picnic grounds here where the 1952 outing will be held, rain or shine. If it rains, and the advance weather forecaster says it won't, the affair will be held under the new picnic pavilion that was recently built on the grounds of the Loyal Republican Club.

Last year a crowd of 2,000 men and women turned out. This year, even more are expected, according to the general picnic chairman, State Senator Edward B. Watson. Members of the State Republican ticket have been invited to attend together with other prominent Republican leaders from Bucks and adjoining counties.

"When bigger and better picnics are staged, the Loyal Republican Club will do it," commented Chief Picnic Steward Harrison Gift yesterday, and Jimmy Plummer, clam and sweet corn expert, agreed with him.

The championship quoit pitchers of the Republican ranks in Bucks county will compete on the afternoon of the picnic, both in singles and doubles. The quoit pitching is also open to the ladies, according to Mrs. Ralph R. Dunn, of Mechanicsville, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the club. Members of the Auxiliary are playing an important part in plans for the 1952 picnic.

Congressman Karl King, of the Bucks-Lehigh district, will be on hand to greet his friends and enjoy the picnic hospitality.

Prisoners Charged With Disorderly Conduct By Police

FALLS TOWNSHIP, July 25 — Falls Township Police Chief, Franklin Kirby and six policemen surrounded a group of men on S. Penna. avenue yesterday and surprised 35 construction workers from the Fairless Works when they raided a dice game. The men had reputedly ignored three earlier warnings to stop gambling.

Taken before Magistrate John Melvin of Falls Township, the violators each paid $21 fine and costs. Police said the men all were strike-bound construction workers at the plant.

35 were from Trenton, N. J., Brooklyn, Staten Island, N. Y. and Philadelphia. They were charged with disorderly conduct. A detail of officers under Chief of Police Franklin Kirby raided the game on Lower River road, near labor union office.

DOYLESTOWN, July 25 — The recent Republican National Convention has caused a spurt in voting registrations, according to Robert F. Detweiler, Silverdale, registrar of the Bucks County Registration Office here.

While the convention was in progress in Chicago, 108 Republicans were registered as voters in the county. During the following week, July 14-19, 77 more were registered since the convention is 196, a considerable increase compared to the usual number during "normal weeks." Voters have been registering at the rate of 14 to 18 a day instead of the customary two or three.

Nineteen Democrats registered during Republican convention week, and 21 the week thereafter. Eleven "no party" and independent registrations were recorded during the same period.

Detweiler reminds Bucks county voters that September 13 is the final date for registration.

NOTE FOUND ON SEAT

A Bristol man, Elliott Samuel Rounavill, 48, 1051 Pond street, was found dead in a sedan on the Brownsburg-Pineville road, Lower Township, early yesterday afternoon by a passing farmer.

According to Russell J. T. Ferris, Coroner, a Mr. Morgan, farmer who resides nearby, drove past a machine parked along the roadway yesterday morning at 7:30 and noticed a man in the front seat,

The two: Joseph Frey, Edgely, sustained a laceration of side of head; Samuel Williams, Bridgewater, laceration of head. The latter was detained at the hospital.

The two were injured while unstacking lumber, it is stated. As one board was "pulled", the stack of lumber toppled onto the two men.

Gun Display Is Center of Interest

about a 50-yard range. Pennsylvania gunsmiths originated the famous Pennsylvania rifle, which was good for 200 yards. These became so popular that General Benedict Arnold adopted them for use in the campaign against the British and General Burgoyne at Saratoga. The British troops were so stunned by the effectiveness of this weapon that they were severely defeated at Saratoga.

Among the pistols in the collection are a Tower horse pistol, used by the British in the American Revolution; a four-barrel Sharp and a Remington, with revolving firing pin; a six-shot pepper box where the whole barrel revolves (named "pepper box" because it resembles a pepper shaker with its six barrels); Colt and Remington revolvers that were used in the Civil War; revolvers used in the Spanish-American War; a percussion two-barrel pistol dating back to the 1840's; a tear-gas gun; a miniature Colt; and two miniature pistols, about the size of one's little finger, which actually fire! One was made in Japan, the other in Germany.

Several of the weapons shown are carbines, which were used experimentally in the Civil War, in efforts to get away from the powder and ball to the breach loader, for more rapid firing. There's an English fowling piece, dating back to the 1700's; this was used for hunting only. Dating back again to the Spanish-American War is a bolt-action rifle. Winter has a Colt rifle weighing 12 pounds 8 ounces. According to Laidacker, very few of these were made and this is an unusual piece as a result.

If the visitor to Bristol on Friday and Saturday will take the time to tour Mill street, Radcliffe street and the lower downtown area, he will pick up much interesting information about early Bucks county history by paying close attention to the details of the various displays and exhibits.

By the Rev. Andrew G. Solla, Th.D., D.D. Pastor, Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour

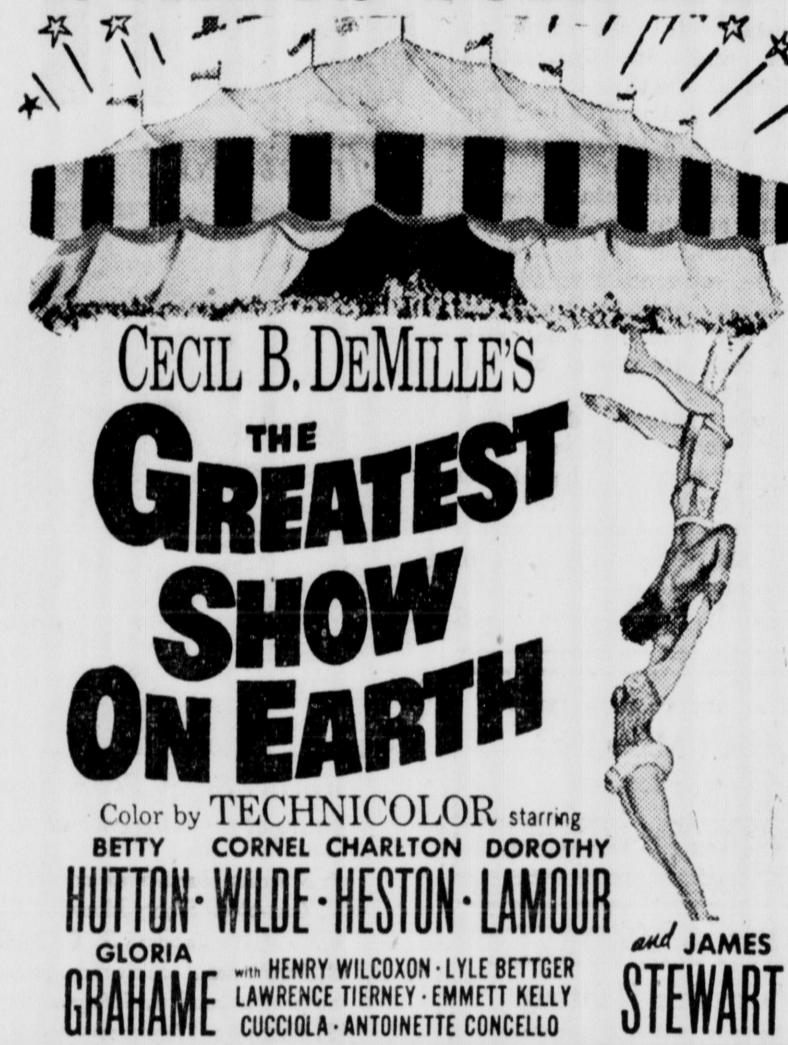

O God, the protector of all those who trust in Thee, without whom nothing is strong, nothing is secure, and nothing is holy, increase and multiply upon Thy people Thy mercy, that Thou being their ruler and Guide, they may so pass through things which are temporal, that they may finally lose not the things which are eternal. Grant this, O Lord, through the merits of Jesus Christ, our Saviour. Amen.

FIFTH WARD GETS CLOSER TO HONORS IN BRISTOL CIRCUIT

Fifth Ward Sporting Club moved closer to the championship of the Bristol Softball League last evening as it whitewashed Franklin A. C. 15-0, on Memorial field. It was also the fourteenth straight mound win for Stan Koreyva.

The Warders hit the ball hard in totaling 15 safe blows. Included in the hits were home runs by Stan Partyka and Frank Russo, triples by Vic Cauti and Koreyva, and a two-bagger by J. Cordisco. Partyka's four-base blow came with the bags loaded in the seventh while Russo's homer was in the sixth with Partyka on base. Koreyva hit his triple with two mates on.

Whyno started on the hill for Franklin and received the drubbing until the seventh when Bert Barber took over.

While Fifth Ward was lambasting the ball all over the lot, Koreyva was having an easy time in keeping Franklin away from the plate, allowing five hits.

WHO LED THE AMERICAN SHOT PUT QUALIFIERS TO THE OLYMPICS WITH A 57' 9 1/2" HEAVE — TWO FEET BETTER THAN HE'D EVER DONE, AND ABOUT A FOOT BETTER THAN ANY PREVIOUS OLYMPIC PUT!

PARRY O'BRIEN

2ND QUALIFIER, WHO'S BEEN ALMOST MAKING A HABIT OF BEATING JIM FUCHS, WORLD RECORD HOLDER

Presidential choice is expected to be Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia. Both Stevenson and Russell will be presented to the convention tonight by President Truman if the hopes of their well-wishers are fulfilled.

The Liberal bloc emerged from its battering on several issues — including the seating of the Virginians, South Carolina and Louisiana delegations with the cry: "We've just begun to fight."

They assembled, 500 strong, at a downtown hotel and heard Humphrey and Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Jr., of New York sound the rallying cries. Then Humphrey, Roosevelt, his brother James of California, Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, Kefauver and Walter Reuther, head of the powerful CIO-United Automobile Workers, plus a dozen others, moved into smaller smoke-filled room.

They continued meeting until 5:15 a.m. CDT.

A spokesman declared the "Forces of Reactionarism" have united the forces of "Liberalism as they haven't been united in the past 20 years."

The convention's marathon session of yesterday included nominations, demonstrations and seconding speeches for a dozen candidates but after all the talk several will now withdraw.

The long list includes Russell, whose name was the first presented to the convention; Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, William Fulbright of Arkansas and Brian McMahon of Connecticut, Averell Harriman and Oscar Ewing of New York; Vice President Alben Barkley, Paul Dever of Massachusetts, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, and Gov. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

But their hopes withered in the face of the "test vote" victory Stevenson scored last night in an innocuous-looking but highly significant argument over whether to adjourn.

Apparently fearful that if the convention got to balloting in the early hours of the morning it would result in an overwhelming victory for Stevenson, Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, one of the top supporters of Kefauver of Tennessee, made a motion to send the weary delegates home to bed.

Stevenson forces, led by ex-Governor John Stelle of Illinois, moved that the Douglas motion be tabled. There followed a tremendous fight wholly out of keeping with the ostensible issue. Convention Parliamentarians waged duels which must have baffled millions of stay-up television viewers, for most certainly many of the delegates were baffled.

But that fact emerged:

When it got down to the ballot stage, the vote was 671 to 534 in favor of the Stevenson side of the argument. Astute observers found this figure as significant as the vote of two weeks ago on the Eisenhower "Fair Play" amendment, which unswervingly indicated the outcome of the GOP race.

The northern Democrats and Labor delegates combined forces after they had suffered a series of stinging defeats during a 13 1/2 hour ordeal of yesterday and this morning.

As the delegates weaved red-eyed toward the hall, they still showed every inclination to name Governor Stevenson as the man best fitted in their opinion to battle Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for White House occupancy.

Hundreds predicted a victory on the first ballot for the balding, 52-year-old man who had persistently resisted all efforts to draft or nominate him — until he relented yesterday, briefly, in face of White House endorsement, capitulations of some of his rivals and an ear-splitting demonstration.

Unless the new Liberal-Labor coalition finds new strength it sadly lacked yesterday, last night and early this morning, the Vice

Sen. Kefauver, the man concerned,

South Carolina were seated—the former more or less peacefully, the latter amidst unforgettable scenes.

While building up to the climax of the voting which reinstated South Carolina and Louisiana, the delegates suspected along about 1:15 A. M. that a final and formidable name was about to be added to the list of candidates seeking the nominee's role in this first unbossed convention in nearly a quarter of a century.

FIFTH WARD GETS CLOSER TO HONORS IN BRISTOL CIRCUIT

Fifth Ward Sporting Club moved closer to the championship of the Bristol Softball League last evening as it whitewashed Franklin A. C., 15-0, on Memorial field. It was also the fourteenth straight mound win for Stan Koreya.

The Warders hit the ball hard in totaling 15 safe blows. Included in the hits were home runs by Stan Partyka and Frank Russo, triples by Vic Cauti and Koreya, and a two-bagger by J. Cordisco. Partyka's four-base blow came with the bags loaded in the seventh while Russo's homer was in the sixth with Partyka on base. Koreya hit his triple with two mates on.

Wynho started on the hill for Franklin and received the drubbing until the seventh when Bert Baratta took over.

While Fifth Ward was lambasting the ball all over the lot, Koreya was having an easy time in keeping Franklin away from the plate, allowing but five hits.

BIG PUSH FOR U.S.

By Alan Mayer

Presidential choice is expected to be Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia. Both Stevenson and Russell will be presented to the convention tonight by President Truman if the hopes of their well-wishers are fulfilled. The Liberal bloc emerged from its battering on several issues — including the seating of the Virginia, South Carolina and Louisiana delegations with the cry: "We've just begun to fight."

They assembled, 500 strong, at a downtown hotel and heard Humphrey and Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Jr., of New York sound the rallying cries. Then Humphrey Roosevelt, his brother James of California, Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, Kefauver and Walter Reuther, head of the powerful CIO-United Automobile Workers, plus a dozen others, moved into smaller smoke filled room.

They continued meeting until 5:15 a.m. CDT.

A spokesman declared the "Forces of Reactionism" have united the forces of "Liberalism as they haven't been united in the past 20 years."

The convention's marathon session of yesterday included nominations, demonstrations and seconding speeches for a dozen candidates but after all the talk several will now withdraw.

The long list includes Russell, whose name was the first presented to the convention: Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, William Fulbright of Arkansas and Brian McMahon of Connecticut. Averell Harriman and Oscar Ewing of New York; Vice President Alben Barkley, Paul Deyer of Massachusetts, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, and Gov. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

But their hopes withered in the face of the "test vote" victory Stevenson scored last night in an innocuous-looking but highly significant argument over whether to adjourn.

Apparently fearful that if the convention got to balloting in the early hours of the morning it would result in an overwhelming victory for Stevenson, Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, one of the top supporters of Kefauver of Tennessee, Balloting for the Presidential nominee starts at 11 a.m. CDT today, or as soon after as the hundreds of groggy delegates can stagger back to the convention hall.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, spokesman for the "stop Stevenson" group, emerged from a closed door huddle with other leaders of the new combination and announced:

"We reached a meeting of minds on a ticket. Boys, you ain't seen nothing yet!"

Kaiser Metal was held to three hits, two of which were made by DeMidio. One of DeMidio's hits was a Homer.

The name of the man to carry the New Deal - Fair Deal banner against the Conservative group backing Stevenson was kept secret but it was believed to be Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

The northern Democrats and Labor delegates combined forces after they had suffered a series of stinging defeats during a 13% hour ordeal of yesterday and this morning.

As the delegates waded red-eyed toward the hall, they still showed every inclination to name Governor Stevenson as the man best fitted in their opinion to battle Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for White House occupancy.

Hundreds predicted a victory on the first ballot for the balding, 52-year-old man who had persistently resisted all efforts to draft or nominate him — until he relented yesterday, briefly, in face of White House endorsement, capitulations of some of his rivals and an ear-splitting demonstration.

Unless the new Liberal-Labor coalition finds new strength it sadly lacked yesterday, last night and early this morning, the Vice

South Carolina were seated—the former more or less peacefully, the latter amidst unforgettable scenes.

While building up to the climax of the voting which reinstated South Carolina and Louisiana, the delegates suspected along about 1:15 A. M. that a final and formidable name was about to be added to the list of candidates seeking the nominee's role in this first unbossed convention in nearly a quarter of a century.

JAPANESE CRAFT
ATTRACTS INTEREST

Dishes, Trays, Cloths and Crockery Are On Display

A. RAYMOND EXHIBIT

NEW HOPE, July 25—An exhibit of Japanese craft articles on display here at the Delaware Book Shop, Ferry street, is attracting considerable interest.

The exhibit, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Anton Raymond, Church road near Bowman's Hill, consists of the kind of dishes, crockery, bamboo trays and hand printed cotton cloths that the Japanese were making before the country was industrialized. Raymond, an internationally famous architect who has designed more than 100 buildings in Japan, including the new Readers' Digest Building in Tokyo, brought these articles back from a recent visit to Japan for the purpose of encouraging Americans to create a market here for such products.

According to Raymond: "We import the articles the Japanese are making in their factories, and this in turn creates a market for Japanese labor. To make a living, the craftsman is turning to the higher wages offered by the factories. The result will be that the little arts which created this display will die out."

The display has aroused the interest Raymond desired. Several large department stores wanted to know how to purchase large quantities of the articles, but they lost interest when they learned that the craftsmen could not turn out the items in such large numbers.

DRUG TESTS

NEW YORK—(INS)—Certain combinations of phosphorus and thiamine are being studied to see whether or not they're effective in treating diabetics. Good Housekeeping magazine cites a report from an investigator in Bogota, Colombia, that the combination lowers the level of sugar in the blood. Moreover the drugs act swiftly and can be taken by mouth.

ADRENAL GLANDS

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—(INS)—The adrenals are a pair of dustless glands located near the upper end of the kidneys. They pour their secretions, one of which is called adrenalin, into the blood stream during times of fright or other emotional stress.

Prevent Premature Wrinkles

Courtesy RKO Radio Pictures
Movie stars, like lovely Barbara Stanwyck, never grow old.
Their good looks program is designed to ward off signs of time.

By HELEN FOLLETT

The feminine face has no busyness cutting up acrobatic capers. You see that sort of thing going on all the time. It seems as though some women cannot convey their thoughts with words but must lift the eyebrows, pull them together, purse the lips or squint the eyes. All these things are a big help in courting premature wrinkles.

Lift the eyebrows and you will have little railroad tracks across your forehead. Frown and pretty soon there will be two horrid little irrigation ditches between your eyes. Keep your eyelids half closed to bar out sunlight and turkey tracks appear. It is enough to fight beauty afflictions that come with the years without creating some of your own.

Wrinkles should be treated before you get them. Try to visualize yourself years hence without a line or a wrinkle in your face. That should inspire you to keep your complexion satin-smooth. And if you have a habit of making faces when you talk, you will break yourself out of it.

Finicky Eaters

Don't be a finicky eater. Fussy women who subsist on a few favorite dishes are bound to miss out on certain vitamins that are necessary for energy, good looks and health.

Don't be housebound. Get out of doors every day for the sake of your spirits. To fall into a rut, going the rounds of the household duties, having no change, will take the sparkle from your eyes, make you moody and morose.

Drink plenty of water if you have a dry skin. An arid complexion wrinkles more quickly than an oily or normal one.

FIRST DOG HOUSE SEEN IN LEVITTOWN

Area Occupied Begins To Take On A "Home-Town" Appearance

PUT AUTO UP FOR SALE

By Staff Reporter

LEVITTOWN, July 25—The portion of Levittown already occupied begins to look like "home-town."

There are several things that would make you feel so.

To begin with the first dog-house has appeared—a black one of goodly size, with dark green processed shingle roof.

And what is possibly the first car to be advertised for sale "as it stands" has a spot in a car-port facing the street. It is a convertable, with big white figures—$345—painted on the windshield.

Women of the village have found another use for the stone wall (used usually for planting of flowers). Some use it as a spot to dry or air their throw rugs.

Quite often in driving by, the "make-up" of a family can be gleaned by noting the equipment in the patio. For instance, at one house there are parked: a full-size bicycle; a medium-sized bicycle with two auxiliary wheels for use until the youth rider can utilize it as a two-wheeler; a tricycle, a baby carriage, a stroller, and a chaise lounge. The answer—Pa, Ma, at least one baby, and two growing boys.

A Series of Articles Introducing the New Residents of Levittown to The Community.

By Staff Reporter

LEVITTOWN, July 25—Moving here from Amityville, Long Island, Thomas and Virginia Pollock became occupants of 44 Shade Tree Lane on Saturday, July 5.

Pollock is a concrete inspector or sub-contractor with the Levitt corporation, the same kind of work he did on Long Island. He is quite adept at woodworking, and in his spare time he makes some of the furniture for the house. He has made corner cabinets and television tables.

At the moment the family numbers only two, but Mrs. Pollock expects her first child in two months.

In preparation she has been sewing baby clothes. Mrs. Pollock has done some painting as a hobby.

Both of the Pollocks are originally Brooklynites, but in this reporter's conversation with Mrs. Pollock, there was detected no evidence of all the things one hears about people from Brooklyn.

When questioned about their plans for the small room partitioned from the living room, Mrs. Pollock stated that they eventually hope to make a dining room out of it.

Prevent Premature Wrinkles

Courtesy RKO Radio Pictures
Movie stars, like lovely Barbara Stanwyck, never grow old.
Their good looks program is designed to ward off signs of time.

By HELEN FOLLETT

THE feminine face has no business cutting up acrobatic capers. You see that sort of thing going on all the time. It seems as though some women cannot convey their thoughts with words but must lift the eyebrows, pull them together, purse the lips or squint the eyes. All these things are a big help in courting premature wrinkles.

Lift the eyebrows and you will have little railroad tracks across your forehead. Frown and pretty soon there will be two horrid little irrigation ditches between your eyes. Keep your eyelids half closed to bar out sunlight and turkey tracks appear. It is enough to fight beauty afflictions that come with the years without creating some of your own.

Wrinkles should be treated before you get them. Try to visualize yourself years hence without a line or a crinkle in your face. That should inspire you to keep your complexion satin-smooth. And if you have a habit of making faces when you talk, you will break yourself out of it.

To condition the skin so it will retain youthful loveliness, use creams freely. Don't forget that soap and water are your friends. When you apply lather, friction it in with your fingertips. This practice will help keep the delicate fibers strong.

Be a demon health builder. Your complexion and youthful appearance depend upon how faithful a follower you are of the goddess Hygeia.

Finicky Eaters
Don't be a finicky eater. Fussy women who subsist on a few favorite dishes are bound to miss out on certain vitamins that are necessary for energy, good looks and health.

Don't be housebound. Get out of doors every day for the sake of your spirits. To fall into a rut, going the rounds of the household duties, having no change, will take the sparkle from your eyes, make you moody and morose.

Drink plenty of water if you have a dry skin. An arid complexion wrinkles more quickly than an oily or normal one.

A fool for a patient

It has been said that he who treats his own illness has a fool for a patient. The wisdom is obvious. What may seem to be an insignificant ailment actually may be a warning of serious illness, especially if symptoms persist or recur. Only a physician has the ability and knowledge required to diagnose and prescribe medical treatment. Seek his attention at the first warning signal. A prolonged and serious illness may be thwarted. If medication is needed, bring your prescription to us.

FIRST DOG HOUSE SEEN IN LEVITTOWN

Area Occupied Begins To Take On A "Home-Town" Appearance

PUT AUTO UP FOR SALE

By Staff Reporter

LEVITTOWN, July 25—The portion of Levittown already occupied begins to look like "home-town."

There are several things that would make you feel so.

To begin with the first dog-house has appeared—a black one of goodly size, with dark green processed shingle roof.

And what is possibly the first car to be advertised for sale "as it stands" has a spot in a car-port facing the street. It is a convertible, with big white figures—$345—painted on the windshield.

Women of the village have found another use for the stone wall (used usually for planting of flowers). Some use it as a spot to dry or air their throw rugs.

Quite often in driving by, the "make-up" of a family can be gleaned by noting the equipment in the patio. For instance at one house there are parked: a full-size bicycle; a medium-sized bicycle with two auxiliary wheels for use until the youth rider can utilize it as a two-wheeler; a tricycle, a baby carriage, a stroller, and a chaise lounge. The answer—Pa, Ma, at least one baby, and two growing boys.

CROYDON
Word has been received of the safe arrival in Korea of Joseph B. Calvert, 831 Fourth avenue.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Doylestown—Richard L. Ford, 23, Detroit, Mich., and Elizabeth A. Wright, 21, Morrisville.

Reading for Preschool Child

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYER, Ph.D.

SOME great men of the world learned to read as early as the age of three or four. Many preschool children of today could do so, too. But it would hardly be good for them. In the first place reading calls for eye co-ordination for which the preschool child is not physically ready. There's danger, therefore, of eye-strain.

Moreover, the very young child's achievement at book-learning achieves at six, seven or eight arouses the amazement of his parents and other adults who tend to over-stimulate him and turn his attention away from normal interests and activities of early childhood. Such early school-like exploits set him off socially from normal playmates of his age now and after he enters school. It makes it harder for him to be likable among his contemporaries.

Interest in Numbers

Some little children also evince strong interest in numbers and their manipulation. A preschool child can in fun count objects, and even grow acquainted with the number symbols and their meaning. Here again, his attention can be strongly turned to formal school learning and away from more wholesome fun.

A mother writes: "My four-year-old daughter has taken an interest in addition. I think it a good time to help her memorize the basic addition facts."

My reply in part: No doubt your little girl could easily learn by heart all the 100 basic addition of this paper).

23 MONTHS PROBATION

DOYLESTOWN, July 25 — A 19-year-old Philadelphia youth has been ordered by Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite to stay out of Bucks county except when he has to report to Probation Officer Horace E. Gwinner here.

Robert D. Pierce, 19, 635 West Cumberland street, Kensington, received a suspended prison sentence, was placed on probation for 23 months and was directed to pay his share of the costs of prosecution on numerous bills of indictment.

Pierce, the father of an eight-months-old daughter but estranged from his wife, is employed as a shipper. He admitted to helping take off wheels, tires and tubes of cars in a used-car lot of the Newton Ford, Inc., June 25.

Trooper Andrew J. Kutney, Langhorne State Police sub-station, testified that Pierce was one of three young men apprehended while walking along Route 1 to Philadelphia on June 25. Trooper Duane C. Allen testified that a home electrician, which had been stolen from the truck of Charles D. Roach, Langhorne electrician, had been found in Pierce's cellar.

Two juveniles remanded to a Philadelphia court, and Ronald M. Landis and Raymond C. Bloom, who drove the car, are also involved in

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By Ollie Hobbs
(Pinch Hitting for Joe Elberson)

Fishing along the Atlantic coast has been a lot better for the last week. They have been taking quite a few kings and weaks in the surf and also sea robins. The surfers are still waiting for that school of blues which are out about 10 miles. Ray Nierle and his son, Lew, landed two nice sharks in the surf at Holgate Inlet. They landed a nine foot and seven footer with regulation surf rod and 45 pound test line. Shark fishing in the surf is a hobby with Ray and his son. They are friends of mine—fellow casters in the Middle Atlantic Association.

They have been having a lot of fun in Barnegat Bay with weakfish on fly rods with a white streamer or grass shrimp with light tackle. They fish with a float when they use grass shrimp—this way of fishing gives a lot more sport.

The president of the Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association, "Ken" Brandau, is on a two-week vacation at Beach Haven. I hope he has something to write about when he returns. I think he will because Ken is a hard fisherman.

Delaware Bay is a fisherman's dream. They are catching all kinds of fish there—weakies, porgies, kings, fluke and a few drum. Crabs are being caught in all the bays now and they are big ones.

LARGE-MOUTH BASS have made a come-back in the Delaware River. I heard of quite a few bass being taken in back of the steel mill and also on the Jersey shore in the last week. I heard of two nice ones being taken in back of the paper mill.

I am wondering if dredging the river will help fishing as it did when they dredged the river the last time. At that time, it brought the white perch back. When we were fishing with a seine net some years back we never picked up any perch even though had been full of perch and also striped bass previously. I am hoping the dredging will help the river as far as fishing is concerned.

The Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association's junior rifle shooters are now qualifying for the National Rifle Association's medals. Irvin Scheffey, instructor, would like all boys wishing to try for medals to do so during the months of July and August.

The Rifle Committee is growing by leaps and bounds. There are a fine group of men participating but the chairman would like to see some of the old-timers coming out again.

DIDN'T AGREE WITH TY COBB IN ARTICLE ABOUT BASEBALL

DOYLESTOWN, July 25 — Although he described Ty Cobb as the greatest baseball player who ever put on spiked shoes, Charlie Gelbert, former St. Louis Cardinals infielder and baseball coach at Lafayette College, said in a talk here, that he didn't agree with Cobb one bit when Cobb recently wrote a magazine article saying that baseball nowadays was not as good as it used to be.

"Baseball today is just as well played, if not better played than it used to be," Gelbert told members of the Kiwanis Club of Doylestown, at their weekly dinner meeting at the Fountain House. Guests of the Kiwanis included the members and coaching staff of the Kiwanis—sponsored Doylestown Knee-Hi baseball team.

The meeting was in charge of Kiwanian James M. Porter, Jr., a personal friend of the guest speaker. Gelbert was introduced by the club president, Dr. Armand Pomenale, and the young ball players fired questions galore at the former St. Louis Cards' star, after his talk.

"I am probably one of the few today that will not say that baseball is not as good as it used to be," Gelbert said. "The game today is a far tougher game to play because of changed conditions. In our days we had no Sunday or night games. We got more rest, ate regularly and travel conditions were actually better."

"In these days, after night games, ball players often do not get to bed until 2 and 3 in the morning, and they may have to report to the ball park the next morning at 10 for practice for an afternoon game."

"Pitching is a far tougher assignment these days. Pitchers cool off too quickly in night games, and that accounts for many sore arms."

Military service is staring many young stars in the face these days, and all told, it's a tough assignment, this baseball.

"However, the kids today have a wonderful opportunity to play all summer, and it's practice and practice daily, that makes a good baseball player. That's the only way to become ball player."

Gelbert, who is a scout for the Brooklyn Dodgers, complimented the local Kiwanis Club for taking an interest in a project like the Knee-Hi baseball team.

The speaker, who started his baseball career in Ambler High School and the old Montgomery County League, and who was picked in 1934 as the "Most Courageous Athlete of the Year" at the annual banquet of the Philadelphia Sporting Writers Association, mentioned McGraw as the greatest manager of all times. He also said that unfortunately, baseball is one of the poorest coached sports in the country today.

"Here in Doylestown you are fortunate to have coaches who know the game, and you have the type of leadership that young players like your Knee-Hi group needs."

Attending the dinner were Coaches Don Wodock and Dick Butler. Coach Wodock told Kiwanians that the local Knee-Hi team has won 28 games and lost 7 in a three-year period, and has a 4-1 standing so far this year, with a big game scheduled with Souderston this weekend and on July 31, with Souderston undefeated at the present time.

Next week's regular meeting at the Fountain House has been called off and instead the Kiwanians will attend the baseball game on Thursday night, July 31, when their Knee-Hi baseball team plays Souderston on Doylestown War Memorial Field.

Members of the Knee-Hi team attending the dinner included Bob Schumacher, Bob Power, Will Reeser, Ed Hendricks, Dick Twinkiegriff, Fred Leuz, John Erickson, Jube Stryker, Mike Sienkiewicz, Tom MacAniff, Mac Hicks, Tuck Hicks, Bob Lippincott, Jimmy La-Rue and Pud Gilbert, bat boy.

Among the guests were Ray Hager, Quakertown Kiwanis; Robert W. Shields, juvenile officer; Ronnie Godshall and Edward Neeley, secretary of the Kiwanis Club of Jenkintown.

One of the questions asked Charlie Gelbert by one of the young ball players was "what do you think of Bobby Shantz?"

"That remains to be seen; we must wait a bit longer but right now I'll say that for the size of him, Shantz is the greatest pitcher that ever lived."

SIDE-LIGHT

PARIS—(INS)—In the personal notebook of Jacques Duclou,

French Communist leader arrested recently, officials discovered in Duclou's own handwriting, a note about French Red top man Maurice Thorez, who is reportedly recuperating in Russia. It said: "Maurice Thorez is incapable of long mental work. His attention fades after four or five hours of political conversation."

MEDICINE MASKS

The president of the Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association, "Ken" Brandau, is on a two-week vacation at Beach Haven. I hope he has something to write about when he returns. I think he will because Ken is a hard fisherman.

Delaware Bay is a fisherman's dream. They are catching all kinds of fish there—weakies, porgies, kings, fluke and a few drum. Crabs are being caught in all the bays now and they are big ones.

Large-mouth bass have made a come-back in the Delaware River. I heard of quite a few bass being taken in back of the steel mill and also on the Jersey shore in the last week. I heard of two nice ones being taken in back of the paper mill.

I am wondering if dredging the river will help fishing as it did when they dredged the river the last time. At that time, it brought the white perch back. When we were fishing with a seine net some years back we never picked up any perch even though had been full of perch and also striped bass previously. I am hoping the dredging will help the river as far as fishing is concerned.

The Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association's junior rifle shooters are now qualifying for the National Rifle Association's medals. Irvin Scheffler, instructor, would like all boys wishing to try for medals to do so during the months of July and August.

The Rifle Committee is growing by leaps and bounds. There are a fine group of men participating but the chairman would like to see some of the old-timers coming out again.

DIDN'T AGREE WITH TY COBB IN ARTICLE ABOUT BASEBALL

DOYLESTOWN, July 25 — Although he described Ty Cobb as the greatest baseball player who ever put on spiked shoes, Charlie Gelbert, former St. Louis Cardinals infield ace and baseball coach at Lafayette College, said in a talk here, that he didn't agree with Cobb one bit when Cobb recently wrote a magazine article saying that baseball nowadays was not as good as it used to be.

"Baseball today is just as well played, if not better played than it used to be," Gelbert told members of the Kiwanis Club of Doylestown, at their weekly dinner meeting at the Fountain House. Guests of the Kiwanians included the members and coaching staff of the Kiwanis—sponsored Doylestown Knee-Hi baseball team.

The meeting was in charge of Kiwanian James M. Porter, Jr., a personal friend of the guest speaker. Gelbert was introduced by the club president, Dr. Armand Pomenale, and the young ball players fired questions galore at the former St. Louis Cards' star, after his talk.

"I am probably one of the few today that will not say that baseball is not as good as it used to be," Gelbert said. "The game today is a far tougher game to play because of changed conditions. In our days we had no Sunday or night games. We got more rest, ate regularly and travel conditions were actually better."

In these days, after night games, ball players often do not get to bed until 2 and 3 in the morning, and they may have to report to the ball park the next morning at 10 for practice for an afternoon game.

"Pitching is a far tougher assignment these days. Pitchers cool off too quickly in night games, and that accounts for many sore arms."

Charlie Gelbert by one of the young ball players was "what do you think of Bobby Shantz?" That remains to be seen; we must wait a bit longer but right now I'll say that for the size of him, Shantz is the greatest pitcher that ever lived."
